You do not move for - ever;
that wind a - mong the mountains.
The rivers are complete with the fruit of your works.
In wisdom you have wrought them all—

You are clothed with majesty and glory,
 With the ocean, as with a garment, you cover it;
 Beside them the birds of heaven dwell,
 You raise grass for the cattle, and vegetation for the oxen,
 The earth is full of your creatures.

robed in light as with a cloak.
 from among the trees they bring forth their song.
