Blessed the man whom you instruct, O LORD, whom by your word you teach,
For the LORD will not cast off his people, and he will not abandon his promise,
When I say, "My foot is slipping," your mercy, O LORD, has supported me;

Giving him rest from all his days.
But judgment shall again be with justice, and all the upright of heart shall follow it.
When cares abound within me, your comfort gladdens my soul.
